Dear Vadim,

On behalf of the Academy, we wish to express our appreciation to you as our speaker in the "Academy on the Web" online program. The "PMI PMBOK 6 and Project Management" and "Time-Management Best Practices" courses were extremely informative, and the feedback we received illustrated the importance of such topics among bankers.

Everyone who attended had only positive comments about the content, style and manner in which you delivered the presentations and provided answers. The participants were impressed with the energy and devotion you brought to the courses. Your passion for such work was evident, and your stories about completed projects and practical examples were fascinating. We all agreed that your sessions were the most interesting we have had this year.

We are grateful for the time and effort you contributed in order to share your thoughts and experiences with the Academy audience. The positive responses to the sessions are a reflection of your high credibility among project-management professionals in the banking industry. Moreover, you helped us create a real buzz around these events.

Again, thank you for making the seminars successful. We appreciate your continued support.

Sincerely,

Denis Korolev
